"The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) (20 U.S.C. § 1232g; 34 CFR Part 99) is a Federal law that protects the privacy of student education records. The law applies to all schools that receive funds under an applicable program of the U.S. Department of Education.

FERPA gives parents certain rights with respect to their children’s education records. These rights transfer to the student when he or she reaches the age of 18 or attends a school beyond the high school level. Students to whom the rights have transferred are “eligible students.”

- Parents or eligible students have the right to inspect and review the student’s education records maintained by the school. Schools are not required to provide copies of records unless, for reasons such as great distance, it is impossible for parents or eligible students to review the records. Schools may charge a fee for copies.

- Parents or eligible students have the right to request that a school correct records which they believe to be inaccurate or misleading. If the school decides not to amend the record, the parent or eligible student then has the right to a formal hearing. After the hearing, if the school still decides not to amend the record, the parent or eligible student has the right to place a statement with the record setting forth his or her view about the contested information.

- Generally, schools must have written permission from the parent or eligible student in order to release any information from a student's education record. However, FERPA allows schools to disclose those records, without consent, to the following parties or under the following conditions (34 CFR § 99.31):
  - School officials with legitimate educational interest;
  - Other schools to which a student is transferring;
  - Specified officials for audit or evaluation purposes;
  - Appropriate parties in connection with financial aid to a student;
  - Organizations conducting certain studies for or on behalf of the school;
  - Accrediting organizations;
  - To comply with a judicial order or lawfully issued subpoena;
  - Appropriate officials in cases of health and safety emergencies; and
  - State and local authorities, within a juvenile justice system, pursuant to specific State law.

Academic Calendar

The Academic Calendar is published annually and provides important dates for students. Dates included in the Academic Calendar include start and end dates for traditional programs, registration dates, add/drop dates, application for graduation, etc. Please refer to the calendar for deadlines.

Students Rights, Responsibilities & Disciplinary Procedures

Please read the School of Health Professions Academic Policies on the school website. Section 6 of the Academic Policies provides policies regarding students' rights and responsibilities as well as disciplinary procedures related to student violations. SHP strictly follows the Rutgers Biomedical and Health Sciences (RBHS) policy on "Students Rights, Responsibilities, and Disciplinary Procedures for Legacy UMDNJ students" which can be found in the Rutgers Biomedical and Health Sciences Policies.

Students are responsible for immediately notifying the appropriate School office of any special circumstances which may influence their performance, such as changes in health status and/or personal difficulties or disabilities. Students, who do not notify the School promptly of changes or difficulties, may not request review of academic decisions on the basis of such circumstances.

Notify your Program Director and the Office of Student Affairs, of any health changes, personal difficulties or disabilities. The Program Director will direct you to inform any other necessary department.

Student Honor Code and Academic Integrity Responsibility

Students are required to review the Faculty/Student Honor Code and, prior to enrollment, acknowledge their agreement to abide by it. Students are required to complete the Academic Integrity Modules before the beginning of the first semester.

Student Use of Personally Owned Mobile Communication Devices/Recording Devices Responsibility

Please see these excerpts from the Rutgers Biomedical and Health Sciences policy on “Student Use of Personally Owned Mobile Communication Devices/Recording Devices”.

“Mobile Communication Devices -- Students are required to exercise discretion and restrict the use of personal mobile communication devices in any educational setting to the extent required by the facility in which the educational experience takes place ...”
“Recording Devices -- Students shall not use the picture-taking functionality of mobile communication devices in the educational setting, unless specifically authorized to do so.”

“Recording Conversations -- It is expected that students will respect the privacy of other individuals in the educational setting, and that secret recording of individuals without their knowledge is not compatible with the mission of universities to foster an open exchange of ideas. ... the University does not condone recording of individuals who are unaware that such recordings are being made. ... any recording will be done only with the prior consent of the parties involved. Covert/secret recording of any conversation or meeting occurring at the educational setting, including any classroom or other educational experience, or conversations or meetings offsite that deal with educational matters of official concern are prohibited.”

“Patient Care -- In compliance with the privacy regulations contained in the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA), visual and recording devices shall not be used in patient care areas.”

The full “Student Use of Personally Owned Mobile Communication Devices/Recording Devices Policy” can be found in the Rutgers Biomedical Health Sciences Policies.

Email Responsibility

The official means of communication between the School, programs, faculty, and students is through the University's email system. After a new student has accepted the offer of admission, Rutgers SHP Office of Admissions sends an email to the student's personal email address with instructions on how to set up a Rutgers email account.

Students are responsible for (1) obtaining a Net-ID and official email address, (2) activating their email account at Rutgers NetID immediately upon acceptance of admission into the School and (3) reviewing their email at least twice a week while a student in the program.

All official School, University, and program notifications come through email, including registrar and student affairs information. The School is not responsible if a student fails to comply with a request or meet deadlines that are communicated through the email system.

Information regarding email accounts can be found at http://oit.rutgers.edu/integration/.

Training Programs Responsibility

Students are responsible for completing all training programs required by the School within the established time frame. Check with your Program Director regarding any specific training requirement (e.g., HIPAA, Sexual Harassment, Academic Integrity, etc.). Some of these training sessions must be completed annually.

Health Information Disclosure Responsibility

Health information at the University and all patient care sites are protected under the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA). The University is committed to providing students with notification of legal duties and privacy practices. Students are required to abide by HIPAA and are subject to disciplinary action for HIPAA violations. All students are required to complete the on-line HIPAA training on an annual basis thru the Healthstream Compliance trainings.
Maintaining a Drug-Free Environment

The University maintains a drug-free environment. "No student, faculty member, resident, or staff member is permitted to unlawfully manufacture, distribute, dispense, possess or use a controlled substance in any University facility or while conducting official University business. Individuals who violate this policy will be subject to appropriate disciplinary action up to and including dismissal or termination from the University and referral for prosecution. A disciplinary sanction may include the completion of an appropriate rehabilitation program" (Drug-Free Environment Policy).

The full “Drug-Free Environment Policy” can be found in the Rutgers Biomedical Health Sciences Policies.

Drug Testing

Students performing clinical activities may be required to undergo drug testing. If this service is not available at the site, testing may be performed through SHP. Please note that all drug testing performed at SHP must be pre-approved by your clinical coordinator or program director. The drug testing form may be obtained through the Office of Admissions at http://SHP.rutgers.edu/current_students/Forms/form.html

Use of Alcohol

“The sale, service, possession, and consumption of alcoholic beverages on the Rutgers University campuses are regulated by federal and state laws and by local ordinances. All members of the University community are obligated to obey these laws, regulations, and ordinances. The University does not have the authority to alter the laws or secure exemption from them. Members of the University are individually responsible for determining how applicable laws, regulations and ordinances apply to them, and for obeying them.

The use of alcoholic beverages at social functions on the Rutgers University campuses is restricted to those functions open to members of sponsoring organizations and their invited guests where service of alcohol is restricted to those of legal drinking age as defined by pertinent New Jersey Statutes. Such functions must be restricted to areas designated by the Deans, Chancellors, or Executive Vice Presidents. In all cases, State laws governing the dispensing of alcoholic beverages must be observed”.

The full “Alcoholic Beverages Use Policy” can be found in the Rutgers Policy Library.
"An impaired student is one who is unable to participate within the University community with requisite skill and safety. This impairment may be due to substance abuse and/or alcohol abuse or dependency, mental disorder, or other medical disorders. Impairment does not necessarily imply that a student has a disability.

Physical and mental disorders and alcohol and other drug abuse or dependencies are often treatable. It is the policy of the University to assist students with impairments [defined] in obtaining treatment, when such assistance does not adversely affect the University’s ability to safeguard the public health and effectively discharge its mission.

If impairment is caused by a disability, it shall be the student’s obligation to comply with University policy, and any applicable School procedures with regard to requests for accommodation”.

The full policy can be found in the Rutgers Biomedical Health Sciences Policies under the policy title “Students with Impairments”.

Student Assistance Facilitators are located on various campuses of RBHS. The Student Assistance Facilitator(s) shall have the following basic functions:

- “Preliminary assessment of the validity of reports of behavior or incidents concerning a student that may be indicative of impairment;
- Presentation of concerns to identified students;
- Referrals for diagnosis and treatment;
- Monitoring of students with impairments until final disposition;
- Referral of students who are not cooperative or who are non-compliant to the appropriate School administrative office for possible disciplinary or other action;
- Submission of an annual report of the activities of the Student Assistance Facilitator and any recommendations for improvements to the appropriate RBHS Dean and Executive Vice President for Academic Affairs".
Essential Functions for Participation in Courses

Each program establishes “functions requirements essential for the successful completion by students of all stages of a curriculum, including physical, cognitive and behavioral standards”. The essential functions for each program of The School of Health Professions is provided on the Admissions website. The full policy, “Student Essential Functions”, can be found in the Rutgers Biomedical Health Sciences Policies.

Accommodating Students with Disabilities

Rutgers University welcomes students with disabilities into all of the University’s educational programs. In order to receive consideration for reasonable accommodations, students with a disability must contact the appropriate disability services office at the campus where they are officially enrolled, participate in an intake interview, and provide documentation.

If the documentation supports your request for reasonable accommodations, your campus’s disability services office will provide you with a Letter of Accommodations. Please share this letter with your instructors and discuss the accommodations with them as early in your courses as possible.

For more information regarding Disability Services and to start the registration process please visit the SHP Disability Services website (link to http://shp.rutgers.edu/current_students/shrp_oss_ada.html). The full policy can be found in the Rutgers Biomedical Health Sciences Policies under the policy name “Disabilities and RBHS Students/Applicants”.

Military/Veteran Student Programs

We ask that students in the military please review our policies in the event they are called for active duty. Students in National Guard or a VA program must contact Enrollment Services, the Program Director, and the course instructor, and follow the guidelines and contact information listed on the Military/Veteran Student Programs link. The student should make sure the appropriate individuals are notified, School forms completed, and prior arrangements made with course instructors. More information can be found in the Military/Veterans area of the SHP website regarding benefits, certification at SHP, and additional resources.

The complete policy can be found in the Rutgers Policy Library under the policy name “Military Leave, Academic Credit and Tuition Refunds – Undergraduate and Graduate Students”.

Please visit the Office of Veteran and Military Programs and Services website for information about the services and resources that are available to Rutgers University students who have served or are serving their country.
Ombudsperson

Under RBHS policy, each Dean has appointed an ombudsperson as a designated, confidential resource for students and visitors seeking information or solutions to problems. The unique nature of the ombudsperson is one of neutrality, impartiality and independence from the Schools’ and University’s established administrative structures. The ombudsperson does not represent the student’s interests, is not an agent of the institution and is not responsible for academic or disciplinary decisions concerning students or visitors. The ombudsperson is independent of all administrators who have notice, compliance, regulatory, enforcement, adjudicatory and disciplinary functions such as deans or program directors.

The ombudsperson identifies options, provides information, refers to other resources, facilitates communication between people, may mediate disputes or negotiate resolutions between parties, and recommend changes in policy or procedure to School/University administrators.

The assistance of an ombudsperson is informal and non-adversarial, separate from existing formal grievance and complaint procedures. Complaints or problems bought to the attention of the ombudsperson do not constitute placing the University on formal notice. Students and visitors can always pursue formal procedures. Sometimes the ombudsperson may recommend this course of action and refer the visitor to the appropriate office. The ombudsperson will not participate in a formal proceeding.

Additionally, the ombudsperson shall maintain confidentiality to the extent permitted by law. The SHP Ombudsperson is Dr. Jane Ziegler. Dr. Ziegler may be reached by telephone at 973-972-9487 or ziegleja@shp.rutgers.edu. Students from the Department of Nutritional Sciences requesting an Ombudsperson should contact Brittany Stone at stonebi@shp.rutgers.edu.

Should a student within the Nutritional Sciences Department need to speak to an Ombudsperson outside of your department, please email the Office of Student Affairs (osa@shp.rutgers.edu) who will be glad to connect you with an Ombudsperson outside of your department.

Student Grievances

Students are encouraged to resolve complaints and grievances at the departmental level by consulting the appropriate faculty member or by bringing the issue to the appropriate Program Director or Department Chair.
Rutgers University, faculty and staff are committed to helping to create a safe learning environment for all students and for the entire community. If you have experienced any form of gender or sex-based discrimination or harassment, including sexual assault, sexual harassment, relationship violence, or stalking, know that help and support are available. The Rutgers Student Policy Prohibiting Sexual Related Misconduct can be found at: http://compliance.rutgers.edu/title-ix/about-title-ix/title-ix-policies/. Rutgers has staff members trained to support survivors in navigating campus life, accessing health and counseling services, providing academic and housing accommodations, and more. The University strongly encourages all students to report any such incidents to the University. The most efficient method to file a report is via this link: http://compliance.rutgers.edu/title-ix/about-title-ix.

Please be aware that all Rutgers employees (other than those designated as confidential resources such as advocates, counselors, clergy and healthcare providers) are required to report information about such discrimination and harassment to the University.

This means that if you tell a faculty member about a situation of sexual harassment or sexual violence, or other related misconduct, the faculty member must share that information with the University’s Title IX Coordinator. If you wish to speak to a confidential employee who does not have this reporting responsibility, you can find a list of resources in Appendix A of the above-mentioned policy.

For more information about your rights and our responsibilities at Rutgers, please go to http://compliance.rutgers.edu/title-ix/about-title-ix/.

Tuition & Fees

Tuition and fees are approved annually and are subject to change at any time based on the discretion of the University. Tuition and fees at The School of Health Professions are posted on the Billing and Collections Rutgers Biomedical and Health Sciences (RBHS) website. Program tuition and fees vary according to each program.

*The Office of Student Accounting, Billing, and Cashiering shall ensure that, by the due date, defined as the start date of the semester at the RBHS School/program in which they are enrolled or intend to enroll, all students have paid tuition and fees, or have established an installment payment plan (see section IV.5 of the policy Student Tuition and Fee Obligations for legacy UMDNJ RBHS students), or have demonstrated a commitment to pay as verified by the Financial Aid Office.

The full policy can be found in the Rutgers Biomedical and Health Sciences Policies under the policy name “Student Tuition and Fee Obligations”.

Student Residency for Tuition Purposes

Tuition rates for in-state and out-of-state tuition are posted on the Rutgers Office of Student Accounting, Billing and Cashiering website.

A determination of residency status for the purpose of tuition assessment will be made by the University based on information provided by the applicant in accordance with the procedure delineated in the Residency Analysis form. Students who are in their first term of study may submit the form and supporting documents to the SHP Office of Admissions up to the final day of classes for that term. Students who are applying for in-state residency determination after the last day of classes in their first term of study should submit their form and supporting documents to the RBHS Registrar.

The Initial determination: At the time an individual applies for admission into any graduate or undergraduate college of the University, the respective Admissions Office will determine residency status for tuition assessment. The determination made at this time shall prevail for each succeeding semester unless a change is authorized.

Students' Responsibilities: The student is responsible for providing relevant information for a residency determination. The burden of proving residency status lies solely upon the student. It is the obligation of the student to seek advice when in doubt regarding eligibility for in-state tuition assessment.

For any questions on residency, please call the Registrar’s Office at (973)972-5454

Tuition Deposit

Once a student is accepted into any SHP Academic Program, he/she must submit a tuition deposit, which holds the student's place and is credited towards the first semester's tuition bill.
Tuition Payment

All students are required to pay or establish an installment payment plan or have verified financial aid or third-party confirmation of payment before the first day of class. All funds from financial aid are initially applied to tuition and fees. "The billing invoice will be mailed thirty (30) days prior to the due date. RBHS students admitted to the University after the date that billing invoices are normally mailed by the School, will have tuition due by the start of the semester.

The RBHS Schools can make the determination to allow students a thirty-day grace period from the start date of classes to pay their tuition and fees". The cashier assigned to each RBHS School is responsible for the collection of tuition and fees.

"Upon request, those students not receiving financial aid or receiving aid that is less than the total cost of tuition and fees may make arrangements with the appropriate Cashier’s Office to pay each term’s tuition and fees on an installment payment plan. Eligibility for participating in this plan will be determined by the Office of Student Accounting, Billing, and Cashiering. Such requests must be received on or before the due date for each semester’s tuition and fees. To participate in the installment plan, the student must execute a Tuition Repayment Promissory Note”. Information on the installment plan is presented in the section “Installment Plan”.

Installment Plan

The Rutgers University Tuition Payment Plan (RUTPP) allows you to pay your term bill charges in convenient monthly payments. By planning early, you can include your college payments in your monthly household budget, which allows you to avoid the large, lump sum payment due at the beginning of each semester. If you budget with Rutgers you may be able to reduce the amount of loans you will need, and in turn reduce your indebtedness.

ONLINE WEB ACCESS

Tuition Management Systems (TMS) offers online account access to your RUTPP information, where you can review your installment account and payments for any semester you have attended Rutgers.

View your Rutgers University Tuition Payment Plan

Unpaid Accounts

Students are not permitted to continue in their program for the following semester, nor will a transcript of credits or certificate of graduation be issued until the indebtedness is settled.

Students who fail to pay their account in full within thirty days of going on inactive academic status, will have their accounts submitted to a collection agency. The student is responsible for collection agency fees which is 33 1/3% of the past due balance plus the balance, and all legal fees involved in collecting the past due account.

For inquiries on delinquent accounts, billing and collection office, payroll and student loans please contact Billing and Collections Rutgers Biomedical and Health Sciences.
Policy on Non-payment of Tuition

A hold will be placed on the account of students who do not arrange payments with the RBHS cashier’s office by the drop/add deadline. This hold will prevent any future registrations.

Students can make payment arrangements at my.rutgers.edu or contact the RBHS cashier’s office at 973-972-6307.

Students who are administratively withdrawn for nonpayment will be required to re-apply for admissions and must follow the SHP re-admit policy.

Refunds

Refunds will be issued on credit balances after all financial obligations to RBHS are satisfied. Please check the registration refund dates listed in the Academic Calendar.

Third Party Billing

If tuition/fees are paid directly to the University by a government agency, Armed Services or Federal Government (VA) or the State of NJ. Please contact and forward the paperwork to:

Adverse Weather Information

In response to events of escalating, severe weather or other disasters and catastrophic emergencies, the University may implement procedures to maintain the safe, orderly continuation or shutdown of educational and research programs, patient care services, and administrative operations. This policy will work in concert with the University’s Emergency Operations Plan and Continuity of Operations Plan, which provide additional details, procedures, and guidance for actions to be taken during naturally-occurring or human-caused emergencies and disasters.

NOTE: hazardous weather, disasters, catastrophes, and other emergencies do not automatically cause the procedures in this policy to be placed into effect; a decision to implement the procedures in this policy must be made by the appropriate University officials.

Because of the multi-campus and multi-facility organization of the University, weather conditions will be evaluated individually at each campus and location, and the implementation of the “Inclement Weather Emergency” procedure at one campus or location will not necessarily include another campus or location.

Research for Students

Each year, a number of Summer Student Research Internships are funded which provide students with a stipend and the opportunity to work with a faculty member on a research project.

Descriptions of projects developed by faculty members are available on the Research website in February. When a student finds a project of interest, they discuss the project and responsibilities with the faculty member. Once both agree to the time commitment and responsibilities, the application is sent to the Research Office by the April deadline. If necessary, the project is forwarded to the Research Committee for selection. Interns must be SHP students, with preference given to students who are less than half-way through their graduate program. Faculty researchers must have a terminal degree for the scholarly activity. Research must be approved by the proper Institutional Review Board.
SHP recognizes and emphasizes the importance of research by hosting an annual “Research and Scholarship Symposium” to promote research and scholarship. It is an opportunity to enhance networking among students and faculty members from different departments within the School and to augment faculty-student interactions through research.
Graduation

Rutgers University has three graduation dates: fall (for students who complete requirements by the end of the summer term), winter (for students who complete requirements by the end of the fall term) and spring (for students who complete requirements by the end of the spring term). All students must apply for graduation by the deadline. Please go to the SHP Registrar’s website for information on how to apply for graduation and for more information about graduation, diploma distribution, etc.

Convocation

Each May, graduating students, faculty, staff, and guests are invited to attend convocation. The event is to salute our students, applaud completion of their academic journey and to wish them much success in their future endeavors. For more information, check for announcements 1-2 months before graduation on the SHP home page.

Online Graduate Survey

All eligible graduates receive via e-mail during their last semester instructions to complete the "Online Graduate Survey." This survey is an opportunity to provide valuable input about the School and the SHP educational experience. Please take a few minutes to complete the online survey and let us know how we are doing. All responses are confidential.
