Faculty Highlights

Publications

Diane Rigassio Radler, PhD, Associate Professor, Dept. of Nutritional Sciences; Director, Institute for Nutrition Intervention; Andrea Marcus, MPH, Assistant Professor, Dept. of Nutritional Sciences; Rachel Griehs, MS, Clinical Assistant Professor; Dept. of Nutritional Sciences; Riva Touger-Decker, PhD, Professor & Chair, Dept. of Nutritional Sciences. “Improvements in Cardiometabolic Risk Factors Among Overweight and Obese Employees Participating in a University Worksite Wellness Program. Health Promotion Practice. Published online before print November 10, 2014. [http://hpp.sagepub.com/content/early/2014/11/08-1524839914558515]. doi: 10.1177/1524839914558515.

Presentations

Judith Deutsch, PhD, Professor, Dept. of Rehabilitation and Movement Sciences. “Future of virtual rehabilitation,” in the New York Medical College’s NYMED Talks ‘Innovations in Medicine and Healthcare in Ten Years.’ The event was held at Valhalla, NY on November 25, 2014.

Deborah Josko, PhD, Associate Professor & Program Director, Medical Laboratory Science. Dept. of Clinical Laboratory Sciences. "Anaphylactic reaction after beef consumption due to the development of IgE antibodies against the carbohydrate galactose-alpha-1,3-galactose," at the American Society for Clinical Pathology Conference in Tampa, Florida on October 8-10, 2014.

Recognitions

Deborah Josko, PhD, Associate Professor & Program Director, Medical Laboratory Science. Dept. of Clinical Laboratory Sciences. Her poster entitled, “Anaphylactic reaction after beef consumption due to the development of IgE antibodies against the carbohydrate galactose-alpha-1,3-galactose," was selected as the Best Poster Finalist - Best Education Practice Category in the American Society for Clinical Pathology Conference in Tampa, Florida on October 8-10, 2014.

Student Highlights

Publications

Recognitions

Nadine Behary, Physician Assistant Program, was awarded a $10,000 scholarship from the Abdol H. Islami, MD Foundation. The Abdol H. Islami, MD Foundation Scholarship is based on character, academic achievement and heritage.

Presentations

Occupational Therapy Assistant Student was featured in the ‘Faces of Genesis’

Meaghan Paige, Occupational Therapy Assistant student, was one of the faces that were featured in The Chelsea at Manalapan, an assisted living community. Meaghan is part of the rehab team at Chelsea Manalapan who participated in the center’s Fall Prevention Awareness month. Below is the article submitted by Tricia Mathis, Area Director for Chelsea Senior Living.

“Meaghan Paige, Occupational Therapy Assistant student, was one of the faces that were featured in The Chelsea at Manalapan, an assisted living community. Meaghan is part of the rehab team at Chelsea Manalapan who participated in the center’s Fall Prevention Awareness month. Below is the article submitted by Tricia Mathis, Area Director for Chelsea Senior Living.

“The rehab team at Chelsea at Manalapan was full of enthusiasm for Fall Prevention Awareness Month. They put together a series of small events, including discipline-specific information presented to residents and a treasure hunt.

During the OT, PT and ST presentation, ADL supplies, healthy snacks, notepads, and pens were offered as giveaways.

Pictured L-R: Meaghan Paige (OTA student); Gina Testa (SLP); Joseph Austria (PT); Deepa Thomas (OT,PM).