Project Detail:

Project Title: (56 characters max)	Asian American Family and mental health
Hypothesis:	Conflicts with parents over sexuality and Asian values would influence a young-adult child's sexual guilt. The level of self-differentiation and autonomy from parents would influence a young-adult child's sexual guilt. Sexual guilt, overall, would influence a young adult's mental health.
Description: (Include design, methodology, data collection, techniques, data analysis to be employed, evaluation and interpretation methodology for research component)	This quantitative study will be conducted by collecting cross-sectional data from young adults who are second generation Asian Americans via online survey to answer the above research question. The survey link will be distributed to college Asian American associations and Asian churches across USA by the researchers via email. The research team will continue data collection until a sufficient number of responses are collected ($n = 250$). Once the data are collected, they will be analyzed to test the model from the research question, utilizing structural equation modeling (SEM). The model fit and path loadings will be tested to answer the above research questions.
Specific Student Responsibilities:	Student will work on: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1) Reaching out and following up the potential recruitment contacts. 2) Sending out survey links and incentives to the participants.

	3) Documenting the data collection process. 4) Assisting data analysis in SEM
Start / end date of project:	5/10 to 7/10

Educational:

WHAT OTHER EDUCATIONAL OPPORTUNITIES ARE AVAILABLE TO STUDENTS? (e.g., journal club, seminars, clinic, rounds)	Student will be provided with weekly supervision sessions of data collection and management. Student will be provided with SEM manuals and online multimedia resources, before practicing it with the data.
WHERE DO YOU PLAN TO PRESENT OR PUBLISH THE FINDINGS WITH THE STUDENT? (e.g., national or state meetings, newsletter or journal, SHP poster day)	The findings will be submitted as a proposal in national conferences in the counseling field (e.g., American Counseling Association) and will be documented for a publication in peer-reviewed journals in the counseling field.
